Message from the Chief Executive Officer

Mr. Theerawat Thanyalakphark
Chief Executive Officer

The company is determined to develop and ready to adapt new strategies to keep accommodating the current situation and purchasing power and creating new opportunities for the business, which is a vital part of the company's business operations to be successful and sustainable in the future.

In the past year, the third wave of coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic has affected the Thai economy, still slows down, forced population income to decline, and the debt burden of households remain high. It led to a higher level of credit rejection rates as well. In addition, the overall recession of the economy has resulted in less purchasing power. While the real estate operators have not launched a new project yet because of the COVID-19; however, in terms of ready buyers, it is a great time to buy accommodation during this period because the selling price has dropped considerably besides the low- interest rate. Meanwhile, the overview of the Thai real estate sector is more likely to recover in 2022 if the epidemic situation of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) has improved by the end of this year and has sufficient domestic vaccination. Most Thai people got vaccines over 70%, so people return to their ordinary lives, start working, and have a regular income. In addition, society has a certain level of security, and the total economy becomes improved, then it will have a positive impact on overall other businesses, especially the real estate market. However, this year is considered a year that we must adjust quickly and keep up with the ever-changing situation. Meanwhile, the company strives to follow its commitments set at the beginning of the year under the "SENA Strong" measure and is ready to take adaptation new strategies to suit the current situation and purchasing power and to create new opportunities for the business for this reason in the past the company has focused on buying vacant land to develop and installing the pile foundation ourselves. Under the uncertain economic situation, many projects have faced liquidity shortages and cannot run their business anymore. However, SENA saw an opportunity to expand the business by taking over the under-construction projects, which benefit both time and cost, also we can recognize revenue quickly. Importantly, those projects are in good and potential location, and some projects come with existing customers who are ready to transfer.

However, the first reaction of SENA during the COVID-19 crisis was to take care, to help, and to heal five groups of people around us, namely workers, customers, household members, partners, and society, along with building strength from within the organization under the mission of the year "SENA Strong" to prepare to cope with uncertain situations that may arise in all aspects through the C.A.P theory, which is a guideline to drive the organization to overcome this wave of crisis

The approach, work method, and practice through the theory of C.A.P, comprising:

- C: COPE: short-term solutions with the work method, from visiting the area to research the data by oneself, working proactively in understanding each person's problem, and being ready to find a solution as quickly as possible.
- A: ADJUSTING: be prepared for any situation that may arise.
- P: POSITIONING: looking for a long-term plan and being ready after the COVID crisis subsides so that the business can continue to operate in the future.

Because of the COVID-19 pandemic, this year's real estate sector has been affected by all negative factors, including lockdown measures that affect the supply chain. In addition, the economic system, purchasing power, and consumer confidence index are declining, so it causes entrepreneurs to be careful in marketing or even launching a new project for the rest of the time after this.

On behalf of the Executive Committee, I am delighted to inform the shareholders that throughout 2021, Sena Development Public Company Limited remains committed to developing products and services for the highest customer satisfaction, along with committed to building up sustainable growth under good corporate governance. Giving back to society, SENA has shared through the project "Baan Ruam Tang Fun" under the concept "share the rest for society." In 2021, the company donated 20 million baht to build a Thanyalak Intensive Care Unit (Negative pressure room) for Thammasat University Hospital for supporting patients infected with COVID-19. (2) Marketing and Competition

Overview of Real Estate Business in 2021 and its Trend in 2022

Presence of negative factors affecting the real estate market in the year 2020 still persists in 2021 namely the pandemic of COVID-19 that still continues to spread, the current economic situation, household debts that remains at a high level, fragile political situation and strict government measures.

The pandemic of COVID in various countries and in Thailand has become severe again and mutated to the Omicron variant. Even there was a period where the infection rate decreased, but later the cumulative infection rate and death rate in turn increased. By the end of the year 2021, there were 450 million cumulative infections and the death rate of more than 5 million cases worldwide. In Thailand at the end of the year 2021, there were the number of cumulative infections of 2,210,000 cases and the death rate of 21,698 cases, which increased significantly from that of the year 2020.

However, since the Omicron variant has a smaller risk of death together with the need for economic restoration, governments of all countries including the Thai government have lessened the measures by allowing businesses to open for services more than previously permitted so that employment increased after a period of halt.

Thailand's Gross Domestic Product for the year 2021 increased by 1.6 per cent from that of the year 2020. The last quarter of the year 2021 grew by 1.9 per cent from the last quarter of the year 2020. This resulted from the merit of tourism, goods transportation and agriculture that had improved, making exports and private consumption increased. The overall economic situation was then regarded as partly recovered from a large contraction of 6.1 per cent in the previous year.

Household debts remains at a high level. At the third quarter of the year 2021, household debts were at the level of 89.3 per cent of GDP and household savings decreased. The proportion of debt burden to income (Debt Service Ratio or DSR) on average of Thai households has been at the rate close to 30 per cent since 2019 and increases more than 30 per cent after the pandemic of COVID-19 as households borrow in compensation for their lost income.

Thai politics remains uncertain. There is a problem of fragile relationships, both between the government's coalition parties, between opposition parties and between different groups within each party on an occasional basis. Factors concerning real estate measures had not significantly changed until the last quarter of the year when there was news on some measures to be lessened for the year 2022.

Construction of important mass rapid transit projects which have been delayed due to the pandemic of COVID-19, in particular the Pink Line, the Yellow Line and the Orange Line. This has cost the opportunity to stimulate the real estate market along those line routes.

For the light Mass Rapid Transit Pink Line, the service has been delayed from opening one more time. Previously, it was expected to open some parts of the Line for service by the last quarter of the year 2021 and open the whole route in 2022, but was postponed to open some parts for service in 2022. There are 30 stations along the Pink Line from Nonthaburi Government Center to Minburi Station, which is a connection point with the Mass Rapid Transit Orange Line.

The Mass Rapid Transit Yellow Line which was previously scheduled to open some parts for service from Samrong Station to Pattanakarn Station approximately the same period as the Pink Line, has been postponed to the year 2022 as well. For the Mass Rapid Transit Orange Line between Thailand Cultural Centre Station to Minburi Station, it is expected to open for service by the year 2024.

In 2021, only the Red Line Commuter Train from Taling Chan Station via Bang Sue Station to Rangsit Station has been open for service since the third quarter of the year 2021 after a few postponements while the Bang Sue Central Station which will be a railway central center of the country, has been progressing and already open some parts for service since 2021 and also utilized some area for a vaccination center.

In 2021, entrepreneurs of residential development projects continued to adjust themselves continuously from the year 2020 in line with the market condition. Most postponed opening condominium projects and focused on housing development with real purchasing demand and more of first-house projects at the price and number that could fastly sell, and turned to real estate business outside the residential sector. Most major entrepreneurs and some medium entrepreneurs can still control their costs or manage liquidity well. Moreover, they can manage to have more transfers of ownership from existing backlogs so that income of these entrepreneurs does not decline significantly or some even have higher revenue. However, the 2021 performance of major and medium sized entrepreneurs on average have income and net profits decreased as compared with those of the year 2020.

The total number of residential units newly opened in Bangkok - Vicinity which was already low in 2020, continues to decline in 2021. The Real Estate Information Center reports a survey on the overview of the residential market in Bangkok – Vicinity that residences launched in 2021 only approximately 46,600 units as compared with 66,200 units of the year 2020 or a decrease of 30 per cent. The total value of the projects was about 191,200 million Baht, a decrease of 43 per cent from the year 2020.

In 2020, there were newly developed houses opened for sale approximately 36,500 units but in 2021 the number decreased to around 25,100 units. At the same time, in 2020 there were 29,800 new condominium units opened for sale and approximately only 21,500 units in 2021. Besides, each year before the pandemic of COVID, there were new condominiums opened for sale on average approximately 60,000 units per year. The new sales opening in 2021 then were regarded as the lowest new residential units and condominiums opened for sale in more than a decade, especially in the center area of Bangkok where the slowdown was significant.

In 2021, the number of completed residential units newly registered was approximately 77,800 units, a decrease of 30.5 per cent from that of the year 2020, the lowest in more than a decade and the number of residential ownership transfers nationwide was approximately 265,500 units (including both new and second-hand residential units), a decrease of 22 per cent from that of the year 2020. Horizontal residential units decreased by 26 per cent and condominium a decrease by 27 per cent. The value of ownership transfers in 2021 was approximately 802,700 million Baht, a decrease of 13.5 per cent from that of the year 2020. The values of horizontal ownership transfers and condominium ownership transfers decreased by 11 per cent and 18.5 per cent, respectively.

Newly issued home loans for the general public in 2021 valued approximately 612,000 million Baht, close to that of the year 2020 as compared with the value of 640,000 million Baht in 2019, and with the highest statistic of approximately 702,000 million Baht in 2018 (SENA Research analyzes the cause of the newly issued home loans did not decrease from the previous year was because second-hand home loans issued increased and more re-financing). The general public's home loans in arrears in 2021 valued approximately 4,501,500 million Baht, an increase of 5.8 per cent from that of the year 2020 in which the amounts in arrears were about 4,255,000 million Bhat (SENA Research analyzes that home loans in arrears increased without an increase in newly issued home loans indicating that debt repayment postponements increased or increased refinancing due to reduced debt solvency).

Home loans from government banks remain the main mechanism. As specialized financial institutions have a mission to respond to the public policy by supporting the home loan project for the low and medium income such as the Baan Lan Lang Project through the Government Housing Bank of which Phase 2 of the Project was launched since 10th September 2021 and the ending date of performing juristic acts by the date of 30th December 2023 with the highest borrowing limit of 1,200,000 Baht and the duration of installment payments of no less than 7 years and no more than 40 years.

The interest rate in the system in general declines to a low level due to the Bank of Thailand adjusted the policy rate from the level of 1.25 per cent at the end of the year 2019, to 0.50 per cent towards the end of the year 2020 and kept the rate at 0.50 per cent throughout the year 2021. This helped to mitigate the problem slightly because the low loan interest rate in the financial market reduced the financial cost of entrepreneurs and loan-financed home buyers.

Not only has the condominium market been slow down significantly in 2021, but also commercial real estates are affected both retail real estates (from the social distancing measure, limitation of time and volume of services), hotels (from the disease spreading and travelling difficulties) and office building rental space (from business closedown or reduced rental space).

Thailand started to open the country and allowed for travelling much more than previously since the beginning of November 2021. There have been adjustments in line with the vaccination situation of worldwide population and Thai people which raised the real estate market's expectation during the end of the year 2021 and already passed the lowest point in 2021. However, it still depends on easing measures from the government and efficient health care management.

During the last 4 months of the year 2021, there were several news on various government measures that affect the real estate market. Issues that directly affect the real estate market include:

The Bank of Thailand announced the relaxation of home loan criteria by financial institutions for home loans issued to ordinary persons or "Loan-to-Value Ratio or LTV" which is effective from 20th October 2021 until the end of 2022, a period of just more than 14 months. The LTV Ratio is set at 100%, i.e. financial institutions can issue the maximum amount of loan by the full value of the residential unit used as collateral.

Nonetheless, prior to that the Bank of Thailand started to set up the LTV Ratio criteria for financial institutions to follow since 1st April 2019. Later on 20th January 2020, the criteria was relaxed by shortening time of home loan payment history of the first contract from 3 years to 2 years for the amount of loan less than 10 million Baht in 2 cases. First, if the first contract is paid in installments within 2 years, the LTV Ratio is set at 80% of the value of residential unit used as collateral of the loan. And, in the second case, if the first contract has already been paid in installments for at least 2 years, the LTV Ratio is set at 90%. In addition, in the same announcement, the LTV Ratio is relaxed for home loan of more than 10 million Baht. If it is the first home loan contract, the LTV Ratio is newly set at 90% and for the second loan and third loan, the LTV Ratio is set at 80% and 70%, respectively, as previously set. The Property Valuation for the Public Interest Committee issued a notification dated 24th November 2021 to use the land or construction valuation accounts according to the Property Valuation for the Public Interest Act B.E. 2019 with the effective date of 1st January 2023 throughout the country. During the ineffective period, the property capital valuation account will be used for the accounting period of 2016 – 2019 in order to collect the fee of the registration of rights and juristic acts in the meantime.

For the land and construction valuations used at present belong to the previous valuation period of 2016 – 2019, the Treasury Department used to announce the postponement of the use of previous land valuation by postponing from the beginning of 2020 to the beginning of 2021, and to the beginning of 2022. And this time it will be postponed to the beginning of 2023 (or the end of 2022).

The Cabinet's resolution on 7th December 2021 approved the same property tax according to Section 94 for other 2 years, namely the year 2022 and 2023. However, such a resolution is effective only to reduce the collection rate at one degree, i.e. reduce from the ceiling rate according to Section 37 but the rate is not further reduced by 90 per cent according to Section 55.

The Cabinet's resolution on 21st December 2021 approved a measure to reduce the fee of the registration of rights and juristic acts for residential units. Implicitly, it is an extension of the fee reduction measure for transfers and mortgages from previously due by the end of 2021 to another year by the end of 2022. The fee for real estate ownership transfers is from 20,000 Baht per a million to 100 Baht per a million, and a fee reduction for residential mortgage from 10,000 Baht per a million to 100 Baht per a million as well for purchases of residential units of the types – detached house, semi-detached house and town house, or commercial building, or apartment registered a condominium. The trading value and the capital valuations are no more than 3 million Baht and the mortgage amount of no more than 3 million Baht.

These measures from the government and the regulatory agency (BOT) have both considered to determine new measures, relaxation of existing measures criteria and extension of existing measures from previously ending in 2021 to by the end of 2022, or towards the end of 2023.

Real Estate Market Trend in 2022

The Bank of Thailand forecast in December 2021 that the Thai economy in 2022 would grow approximately by 3.4 per cent. The National Economic and Social Development Council forecast at the beginning of the year 2022 that the economy would grow by 3.5 – 4.5 per cent while the Fiscal Policy Office expected the growth rate at 4.0 per cent. If the surrounding factors are as presented by the variables during the end of the year 2021 and the beginning of the year 2022, the real estate market tends to slightly recover during the first half of the year 2022. Nonetheless, entrepreneurs in the residential market still face the same slowdown growth as the previous year. Given factors that are more at ease, both the Light Rail Train routes, namely the Pink Line and Yellow Line that are delayed over the year. However, some parts should at least be open for service.

In 2022, it is expected that there will be new residential units available for sale in the Bangkok - Vicinity market by a larger number than that of 2021. This is because the new openings in the past 2 years were relatively low, in particular, the total amount of condominiums launched 2 years together (2020 and 2021) only around 51,300 units from a normal year of 60,000 units. It is expected that there will be new condominiums open for sale approximately 30,000 – 35,000 units in 2022 and a new housing development around 40,000 units. The housing development project in outer areas of Bangkok as well as other vicinity provinces obtains a lot of interests and demand for detached house, semi-detached house and town house.

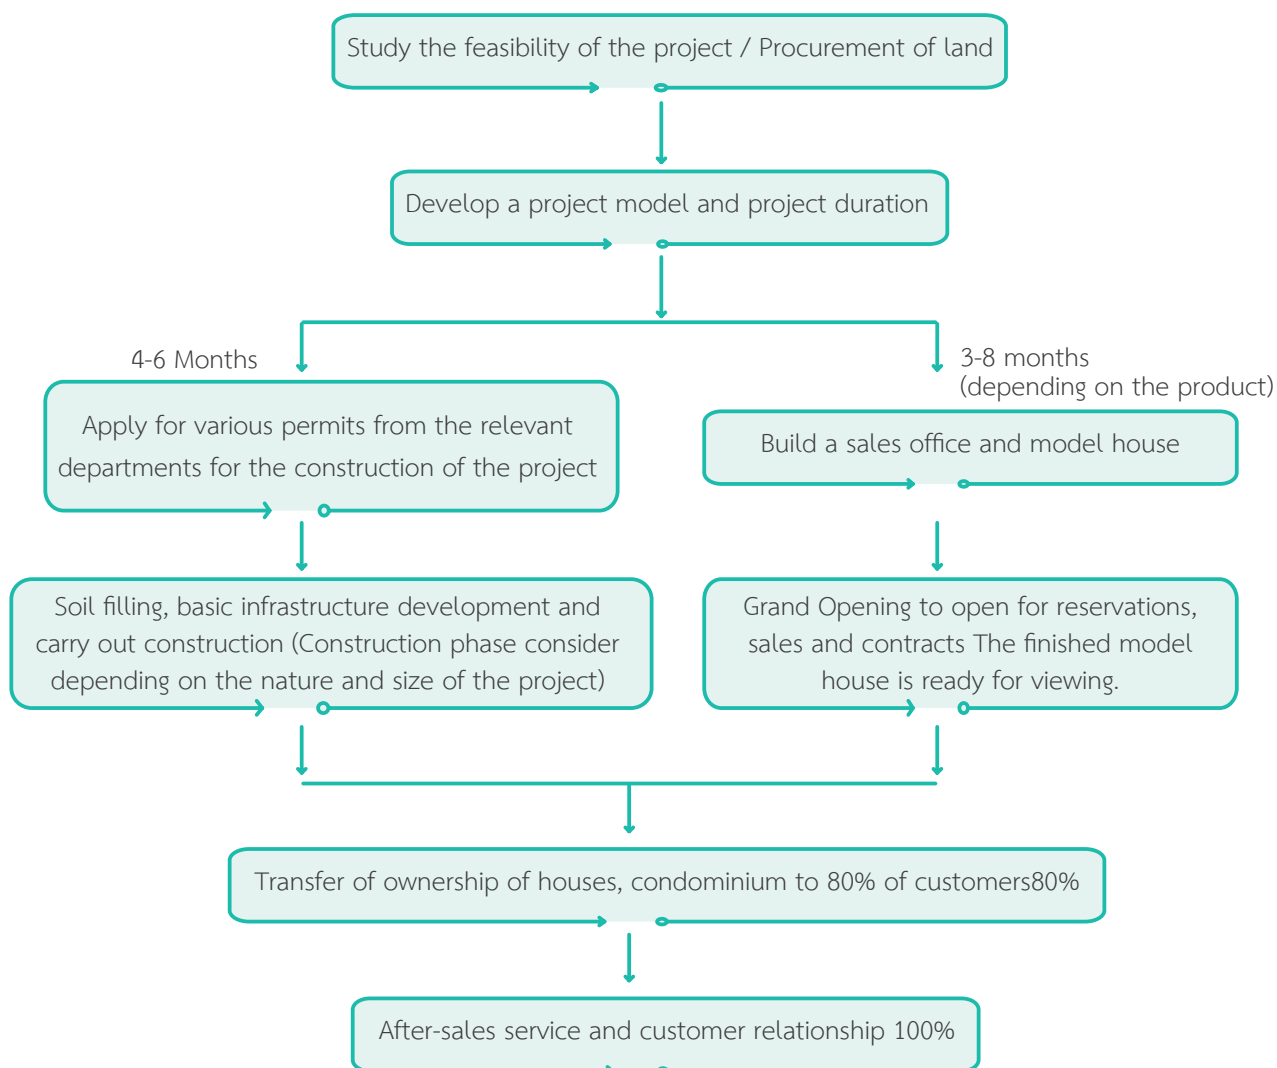

However, in 2022 there are risk factors both existing and new ones that may affect residential purchasing power. New factors include the imminent war in Ukraine which creates severe international conflicts between the Western countries and Russia, the followed oil price surge while the oil price is an important cost of transportation and production. Moreover, a halt of supply chains resulted from the war making the commodity prices rising high both domestically and internationally that may eventually affect the purchasing power of consumers.

2.2 The Company's Business Risk Factors

2.2.1 Business Risks for the Company and Its Group

1. Real Estate Development Business Competition Risks

The real estate business in the past year of 2021 continued to encounter problems from the same negative factors in the previous year. Most supply and demand indicators contracted when compared to the previous year. For example, the number of developed housing units and newly launched condominiums declined, the number of newly built and registered housing units declined and ownership transfers of developed housing and condominium units declined.

Normally, real-estate business growth or contraction corresponds to the country's economic growth. However, although Thailand's GDP returned to grow by approximately 1.6% in 2021, that growth rate was not reflected in the real estate sector because the real estate sector began to receive results in the final quarter of the year with relaxation of travel by opening the country to accept more foreign tourists and leniency was granted for old limitations from government sector measures such as the loan-to-value ratio in the final quarter of the year.

Although overall housing loan grants by financial institutions have not declined, loan grants have not grown. Part of the loans are loans in which the borrower refinanced loans from a financial institution to other financial institutions, causing loans to be recounted. And although the remaining sum of housing loans increased, in-depth analysis found this to have been caused by suspension of debt payments or debt restructuring to repay old debts at reduced rates, causing old debts to not decline and causing this number to be partially filled by new housing loans.

Household debt has reduced capacity to purchase housing. Household debt in the form of housing loans make up only one-third of all household debt. When compared to other countries where household debt from housing loans make up approximately 40% of all household debt, household debt in Thailand was found to have been created for other consumption such as credit card loans, car loans and various types of personal loans at high ratios that prevent loan applications for housing purchases due to excessively high debt service ratios, which caused anxiety in financial institutions regarding approval for more housing loans despite demand for housing, particularly in the category of developed housing and condominiums at low-to-medium prices.

Most commercial real estate, which was affected no differently than the housing sector, was also confronted with demand contraction in regards to department stores, retail stores, hotels and office buildings, etc., except in the case of the hospital business and health-related businesses for COVID-19 prevention.

In 2022, apart from uncertainty from the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, the real-estate market has to cope with new risks from war in Ukraine. If the war in Ukraine is prolonged, there may be potential effects in a chain reaction leading to conflict between superpowers. High oil prices will lead to higher transportation costs. Disruptions to the supply chain for certain types of products, higher product prices and inflation have caused interest rates to rise, creating risks that growth rates in the global economy and the Thai economy will not be as expected.

Business operators in the real-estate business all have to cope with similar problems overall and may have to sustain businesses to overcome 2022 for another year. The real estate business should clearly recover in 2023. However, in 2020 and 2021, business operators overall have continued to delay launches of new projects, particularly condominiums, causing the inventory of new products to begin to decline. Therefore, this may be an opportunity to launch new housing units for sale as replacements in 2022.

Because the problems occurring are problems at the industry level, competition between business operators is not as intense as in normal conditions. However, the Company is able to control competition risks by creating differences and seeking new opportunities such as diversification of the business to the real estate sector connected to public health and elderly care, which is consistent with public attention to public health. The Company seeks opportunities in new areas and procures land in appropriate locations quickly in addition to meeting customer demands at prices wanted by customers that are consistent with customer purchasing power and traveling conditions. The Company studies other innovations that can build on the real estate development business. The Company develops applications and personnel continually to create and develop the best products and services for customers.

2. Risks from Fluctuations in Construction Material and Minimum Wage Costs

In the area of main factors of real estate development business operations, apart from land prices and costs, construction costs are a risk factor with effects on the Company's business operations. The Company's construction costs primarily consists of construction material costs and labor costs. According to data from the Bureau of Trade and Economic Indices, Trade Policy and Strategy Office, Ministry of Commerce, construction material prices were found to have adjusted according to the supply and demand situation in the global market, economic growth, inflation and the domestic construction situation including adjustments to minimum wage, causing the Company to be potentially at risk from higher construction costs in the future.

The Construction Materials Price Index in December 2021 was 115.2, which was 8.9% higher when compared to December 2020 (YoY) in every category of products with the main cause being higher raw material prices for materials such as steel, aluminum, coal and oil, etc., which affected costs of the country's construction material production industry in 2021.

At year end, outlook for the construction industry began to improve in a more positive direction due to improvements in the COVID-19 pandemic. In addition, government sector construction projects began operations in the new fiscal year. However, omicron COVID-19 outbreaks in the last month of the year caused anxiety among operators in the construction business who may be affected by the country's economic and construction industry conditions in the next year.

In short, the Construction Materials Price Index in 2021 overall had an average growth of 8.0%, which continued from the beginning of the year, particularly in the categories of steel and steel products that grew at a high rate at an average of 33.9% for the entire year due to higher steel prices in the global market and higher demand for steel in many countries around the world for economic recovery through investment in infrastructure construction after the COVID-19 pandemic began to improve. In addition, China, a major steel producer in the world, reduced steel production capacity and steel exports to solve environmental problems. In addition, prices of many types of construction material products such as electrical and plumbing equipment, concrete products, other construction materials rose with raw material costs (especially construction materials with steel components), crude oil prices and transportation costs.

However, severe COVID-19 outbreaks in mid-2021 resulted in orders to close worker camps, prohibit worker movement and stop construction for at least 30 days, causing stagnation to operations in large construction projects and demand for construction materials. The aforementioned period was a short period of time without much effect on construction material prices because most large construction projects purchased construction materials in advance and the price of steel, a main construction material, continued to rise with prices in the global market.

The Construction Material Prices Index in 2022 is likely to grow at a slower rate with major factors from steel and steel products, which are expected to continue to grow at not much higher rates because the base price in the previous year was high. This growth is consistent with higher costs and worldwide demand for steel due to an urge for economic recovery in many countries through infrastructure investments by the government sector. Furthermore, ongoing recovery in the real estate sector and demand to repair/modify housing including policies aimed at encouraging the government sector to use materials produced in Thailand and relaxation of loan-to-value measures (LTV) should result in higher domestic demand for construction materials and cause the Construction Material Prices Index to grow.

However, outbreaks of the omicron strain of COVID-19 continue to show a rise in the number of infected patients, which may cause effects on the construction sector and connected business along with creating pressure on the Construction Material Prices Index in the future. The situation needs to be monitored and assessed closely.

3. Risks Due to Contractor and Labor Shortages

The top ongoing problem for constructors in the present day remains labor shortages. Even though foreign laborers have been hired to provide replacements, the construction contracting business continues to not have sufficient labor for needs. In particular, as the government sector drives policies to develop communication and transportation infrastructure, demand for labor in the construction sector continues to grow. Therefore, labor shortages have become a problem that cannot be sustainably solved and labor shortages at some times may not be severe.

Labor shortages may now be considered as a cycle in many countries. Even socially developed and advanced countries such as Japan, South Korea, Taiwan or even Singapore have encountered labor shortages due to social prosperity and advancement. These developed countries chose to accept foreign workers as replacements, causing Thailand, which has a large rate of workers moving to work abroad, to have to cope with domestic labor shortages and import labor from neighboring countries. Labor shortages have never disappeared from the construction business and may become a crisis that is likely to become more severe.

Labor shortages can be seen to not be completely solved. Despite periodical relief of the problem, labor shortages have not vanished from the construction contracting business. On the contrary, if future projects are considered based on the government sector's plan to develop transportation infrastructure, contractors must assess severity of labor shortages. Even though measures or guidelines have been created by the government sector and the agencies involved to help relieve the problem, contractors have to adapt to and manage labor shortages in order to be able to continue construction projects on schedule and properly manage costs in changed conditions. Technological advances in many areas can certainly be used in construction operations. Contractors need to learn and adapt technologies for use to create maximum benefit.

Nevertheless, to reduce risks in the aforementioned cases, the Company selected a number of quality contractors who meet standards and continues to employ the selected contractors regularly in order to provide the selected contractors with business security and ensure selected contractors are willing to work with the Company in the future. Furthermore, the Company requires contractors to pay fines for delays at a daily rate to prevent delays to work delivery and the Company requires construction to be consistent with plans.

4. Risks Due to Land Development for Future Projects

Currently, land for development of residential condominiums in appropriate locations, prices and sizes is becoming scarce or too highly priced for project development according to the Company's guidelines and development to meet demand in the Company's main target group. Due to the current situation with higher competition in the real estate business, each business operator is competing to purchase land, particularly land with locations at the heart of Bangkok or land in the transportation system. This may cause the Company to have risks from failure to procure and purchase land according to business plans. In addition, higher land prices will have effects on project development costs and may prevent the Company from being able to develop projects in order to have returns from investment consistent with the Company's investment policy, which was specified to mitigate risk factors.

The Company possesses a land bank of land not ready for project development or purchases land to wait for unplanned project developments. The price of purchased land reflects the Company's housing sale prices. However, because land is an asset with high value and requires significant investment while project developments may take one year or more, depending on project size, the Company sees that the Company's investment to purchase land in advance while the Company has no plans to develop projects on that land will cause the Company to have risks from lower liquidity in addition to preventing the Company from using the aforementioned capital as current capital in the Company or development of other projects while also causing project development costs to be higher due to financial costs spent to purchase land, which will prevent the Company from receiving a return from investment according to the Company's goals.

However, the Company plans to procure land for project development in order to make certain that the Company has land for continual project development. The Company considers procurement of each lot of land by studying and assessing feasibility of project development, considering opportunities and capacity from the aforementioned land development, growth directions of housing, development paths of mass transit and rail system projects, legal limitations and examination of ownership rights in detail to reduce risks in every area before making a decision to purchase land. In addition, the Company considers suitability of target customers in that land's area before procuring land for project development. Thus, the Company does not hold vacant land not prepared for development unless the Company sees high development capacity for that plot of land and prices are at levels with high returns from investment.

The Company also studies and monitor land issues closely in order to learn of housing development trends and capacity in that area and reduce risks from higher land prices, risks from inability to purchase locations with capacity for future development or risks from changes in government policies such as land and building taxes and planning of mass transit and rail system projects, etc. Furthermore, the Company procures land by purchasing land directly from land owners. This is carried out by the Company's internal work units under clearly designated land procurement steps and land procurement via brokers. The Company has good relationships with many land brokers. Therefore, the Company believes in the Company's ability to procure land for development of future real estate projects.

5. Risks Due to Changes in Politics, Laws and Regulations with Potential Impact on the Real Estate Business

Changes in the laws and regulations governing real estate business operations are factors with influence over the Company's business and operations. The aforementioned changes may cause effects on business planning, costs and expenses in the Company's real estate development projects. If the Company does not completely monitor and study regulations to be up-to-date, the Company may have practices inconsistent with revised regulations with potential effects on the Company's costs and expenses in order to modify practices. Significant changes include revisions to laws concerning urban planning acts, land allocation specifications, the Condominium Act and the Building Control Act such as specifications to land areas, path widths and road boundaries, specification of common areas, transfer of all common property ownership rights to project juristic persons, specification of community regulations, assessment and preparation of environmental impact reports, assessment and preparation of highrise building inspection reports, etc., including revisions to regulations concerning specification of land utilization boundaries, traffick planning and mass transit and rail system projects or expressway projects, etc.

In addition, the loan to value ratio measure (LTV ratio) for loan offers or housing loan offers have effects on consumer borrowing ability. Moreover, these measures may always change according to the country's economic conditions and the government's policies at various times.

However, the Company studies and monitors potential changes concerning regulations continually in order to prepare for changes in real estate project development and be consistent with potential revisions to regulations. The Company studies market conditions regularly. The aforementioned preparations have given the Company confidence of no effects or potential for minor effects from the aforementioned revisions to regulations in order to mitigate risks from laws and regulations or laws concerning the real estate business. The Company has a Legal Department to monitor regulations and laws involving the Company's investments in project development.

6. Risks Due to Disasters in Thailand, Including Bangkok, with Potential Negative Impact on the Thai Economy and Business

Although natural disasters, accidents and sabotage, particularly severe and worldwide disease outbreaks, are infrequent, damage from these disasters may cause stagnation in business and affect cash flows and profitability in businesses. Therefore, the Company made insurance to cover damage from natural disasters, accidents and sabotage for every project under the Company's management to prevent financial damage. The Company prepares business continuity plans to manage emergencies and the Company makes business plans continually by closely monitoring situations and assessing risks to support and mitigate effects from emergencies or potential crises that may occur to the Company.

7. Risks Due to Home Loans from Financial Institutions

Due to the third wave of Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19), household debt has risen significantly. According to statistics on loans granted to the household sector or household debt of the Bank of Thailand in the third quarter of 2021, household debt in the system is currently at 14,347,207 million baht, a slight increase from the second quarter of 2021. In addition, the household debt to GDP ratio in the third quarter of 2020 rose to 89.3% when compared to the third quarter of 2021.

At the same time, in 2022, Thailand's household debt ratio is highly likely to rise above 90% to GDP by the end of 2022 or higher if the economy was more affected by COVID-19 than assessments, which will cause GDP in 2022 to grow less than the basic case.

2/ Consists of loans for purchasing securities and loan offers without categorized objectives.

3/ Loans granted to the household sector to GDP or household debt to GDP is calculated from the sum borrowed by the household sector from financial institutions divided by total gross domestic product at the QGDP price of four quarters in retrospect by counting from the referenced quarters.

STRONG

Financial institutions usually offer housing loans at lower levels than the price of the housing that will be purchased because offering loans at excessively high limits is considered a risk for financial institutions and customers because customers who are unable to repay debts and hold debts for a long time may be prosecuted and have homes seized while financial institutions would lose income and incur costs from managing bad debts. Even auctioning houses may result in prices not worth the debt that customers will continue to owe and financial institutions' returns would not be worth the loan offered. Therefore, to reduce the aforementioned risk, financial institutions usually set loan limits to be lower than the collateral value (loan-to-value ratio or LTV) and offer loans at lower values than the assessed value of collateral. The loan applicant would have to make contributions to the missing portion, which is mostly at 70-90% of the collateral value.

The aforementioned information had effects on the real estate sector because housing or condominiums are high price products with customers who made reservations to purchase condominiums in projects developed by the Company and most customers are customers who need to apply for a loan from financial institutions. When financial institutions increase strictness of loan considerations, particularly for purchases of second homes, and adjustments were made to loan screening criteria, financial institutions mainly focus on customers who purchased housing in projects of large business operators.

Outbreaks of the omicron variant of COVID-19 have caused business anxiety concerning fragile purchasing power and stricter control measures. Businesses in the manufacturing sector have lesser concerns regarding potential declines in purchase orders from abroad while businesses outside the manufacturing sector have concerns about national lockdowns if widespread outbreaks occur again. Most business operators have mainly adapted by cutting non-labor expenses while one out of four operators continue to operate normally unless under a temporary order to close from the government. Businesses need the most support in procuring alternative vaccines to prevent and mitigate effects from outbreaks, followed by cost reduction measures such as support for salaries, wages, tax reductions and reductions to public utility costs, etc.

Nevertheless, the Company monitors consumers' situations including loan offering policies of each commercial bank closely in order to adjust policies to be consistent with each period of time. In addition, the Company has measures for screening or preapproving minor buyers for housing or condominium reservations in order to reduce problems from cancellation of purchases due to failure to apply for a loan and to reduce loss of sale opportunities.

8. Risks Due to Changes in Land and Building Tax Policy

The Company has risks from changes to land and building tax policies pursuant to the Land and Building Tax Act, which was enacted since 2019. However, tax collection has not been fully carried out. According to the Act, a transitory provision was made in Article 94 to reduce land and building tax collection rates to only 10% of the real rate of collection and the aforementioned rate was used continually in 2020-2021.

Recently, the Council of Ministers (COM) held a meeting on 7 December 2021 to approve maintaining the land and building tax collection rate for another two years from 2022-2023 according to the old transitory provision and land and building tax collection rates will be reconsidered again in 2024. The reason for maintaining the old tax rate was the same as in the tax years of 2020 or 2021 in order to maintain continuity and mitigate effects from the COVID-19 pandemic for taxpayers and to provide taxpayers with time to adapt to payment of taxes at the real rate along with allowing local areas to make preparations for more effective land and building tax collection.

The rates of land and building taxes to be collected for the next two years are in the transitory provision appended to the Act. Tax rates are divided by category of property into the four categories in the chart below.

Collection of land and building taxes pursuant to the aforementioned Land and Building Act may cause effects on real estate developers including the Company, resulting in higher project development costs, which would cause the Company's group to have higher real estate project development costs due to the aforementioned tax burdens.

9. Corruption Risks

Main areas of corruption risks in the real estate business consist of land procurement for project development, including construction contractor hiring for project construction. Without sufficiently stringent examination procedures, the organization may become damaged. Furthermore, corruption is considered a major national problem requiring cooperation from all parties in solving the problem. The real estate business, which is connected to many government agencies, are at risk of corruption to obtain special privileges that may come into conflict with regulations or to gain convenience and expedience. Therefore, the Company strictly takes all actions in compliance with regulations and steps to reduce gaps in judgment when interpreting legal clauses.

10. Large Power Plant Business Customer Dependence Risks

As for the solar farm and solar rooftop businesses that produce electricity for sale, the Company has only two major customer groups, namely MEA and PEA, which are the buyers of all the electricity produced by the Company's group. Nevertheless, the group has had electricity sales contracts in this business for over 25 years. Moreover, the government supports the production of electricity from alternative energies and the Company's group is strict in its compliance with the specifications of electricity sales contracts.

2.2.2 Stockholders' Investment Risks

Major Shareholder Influence on Policysetting Risks

On 28 December 2021, the Company had the Thanyalakpark Group as a major shareholders with a total shareholding of 56.38% of the Company's registered capital issued and paid up. The Company and/or its minor shareholders, therefore, might be at risk of the major shareholders being able to control nearly all resolutions at meetings of shareholders, except for issues in which the law or Company regulations require a vote of 3 in 4 shareholders at meetings of shareholders, revisions of Company regulations, and capital increases-decreases, etc. In addition, the major shareholders have influence over policysetting concerning management because their shareholding exceeds one half and they are directors on the Company's board of directors, too.

Regardless, in order to continue the Company's business operations transparently and to maintain the balance of power in managing the Company's work, the Company has policy for balancing power by assigning the Audit Committee, which is composed of 3 independent directors and another 3 independent directors for a total of 6 independent directors from the Company's total number of 11 directors and the Chairman of the Audit Committee, which will help increase the efficiency and transparency in the Company through the internal audit control system in the Company's business operations and balance the power of the Company's Executive Committee. Thus, there is confidence that every shareholder, including the Company's stakeholders will be treated equally.

In addition, the Company has practice guidelines for cases involving connected transactions or transactions involving directors or major shareholders or people authorized in the internal control of business operations, including people with potential conflicts. These people are not authorized to grant approval and have no right to cast votes in conducting those transactions, which also helps reduce the risks posed by this issue. Furthermore, the Company has the Audit Committee to render opinions concerning the necessity and suitability of the transactions. In the event that the Audit Committee is not competent in matters concerning the potential occurrence of connected transactions, the Company has independent expert consultants or the Company's auditors to render opinions about the connected transactions for use in accompanying the decisions of the Audit Committee or shareholders, as the case may be. And in the event that there are requests for meetings of shareholders to consider approval of connected transactions independent financial consultants will be appointed to prepare reports and render opinions about entering into the transactions for shareholders.

2.2.3 Foreign Stock Investment Risks

2.3 Financial Risks

1. Risks Involving Liquidity and Access to Financial Sources

The real estate development business requires high investments, beginning with land purchase investments, construction and sales. These activities require such high investments that the Company generally receives payment on the sales value on the date ownership rights are transferred when construction is complete. Thus, the Company faces a period of approximately 1-2 years and up to manage projects, depending on the project size. Therefore, this business involves risks concerning financial liquidity management and access to the financing necessary for business operations.

The Company has mobilized policy to increase liquidity in accessing financing by building business alliances with several financial institutions and has earned the trust of many financial institutions that have always provided loan support. The Company considers and compares the proposals offering the best costs in terms of pre-financing for development projects. The Company has pre-finance funding to handle every project. Furthermore, the Company uses fundraising for liquidity management by issuing short-term bills, short- and long-term corporate bonds as suitable for financial needs for project development and business expansion. The issuance of these corporate bonds has received a good market response due to the Company's good reputation and experience. Moreover, the Company has given importance to financial liquidity management by conducting business cautiously and meticulously in considering project development from the consideration of selecting land locations for investment to research aimed at analysis and feasibility studies for various projects in addition to giving importance to the details of every significant part of the work involved in each project to ensure the success of every project.

In addition, the board of directors has clear policy for cost management with financial risk management in order to reduce risks with potential impact on the Company's operations and financial status. The Company governs and follows up, so the management has continual reports on performance in addition to plans for handling cases likely to encounter financial problems by giving consideration to equal fairness for all stakeholders, including care of liquidity management in order to ensure readiness for timely debt repayment under emergency circumstances in order to enable debt repayment to creditors, even under crisis situations concerning liquidity. Furthermore, if a situation occurs that prevents the Company from compliance with terms agreed upon, the Company will notify creditors and seek problem-solving guidelines in addition to ensuring accurate and complete information technology reports for creditors.

2. Interest Rate Increase Financial Risks

Risks due to increased interest rates result in impact on the Company's business operations with effects on the decision-making of the Company's customers and the Company's financial investments.

- Risks due to increased interest rates resulting in impact on customers' decisions to buy:

If the loan interest rate increases, there will be effects on customers' consideration and decisions to buy homes. Most customers apply for loans from financial institutions. Therefore, loan interest rates and loan payment terms are key factors in customers' decisions to buy homes. Consequently, customers' ability to make payments is lessened, and customers might postpone decisions to buy. The Company recognizes the importance of this issue for its customers and studies customer behavior on a continual basis, so the Company can arrange suitable purchasing and downpayment terms for customers to help ease customers' financial burdens in buying homes with minimal impact on the Company's revenue.

- Risks due to increased interest rates resulting in impact on the Company's financial costs:

The Company has taken out loans from financial institutions for the development Company projects. These loan funds have floating interest rates, and increases in the interest rates would cause the Company to face higher financial costs. The interest rates have direct impact on the net profit of the Company's group and raise the costs of the Company's development projects.

SENA DEVELOPMENT PUBLIC COMPANY AND ITS SUBSIDIARIES

CONSOLIDATED AND SEPARTE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2021

AND INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Independent Auditor's Report

To The Shareholders of Sena Development Public Company Limited

Opinion

I have audited the financial statements of Sena Development Public Company Limited and its subsidiaries (the Group), which comprise the consolidated and separate statements of financial position and as at December 31, 2021, and the related consolidated and separate statements of comprehensive income, changes in shareholders' equity and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated and separate financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In my opinion, the consolidated and separate financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Sena Development Public Company Limited and its subsidiaries as at December 31, 2021, and their financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards.

Basis for Opinion

I conducted my audit in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing. My responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the consolidated and separate financial statements section of my report. I am independent of the Group in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants as issued by the Federation of Accounting Professions that is relevant to my audit of the consolidated and separate financial statements, and I have fulfilled my other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in my professional judgment, were of most significance in my audit of the consolidated and separate financial statements of the current year. These matters were addressed in the context of my audit of the consolidated and separate financial statements as a whole, and in forming my opinion thereon, and I do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters with inspection methods are as follows :

Impairment of Land Held for Development

The Group's land held for development must be stated at lower of cost or net realizable value in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards. The Group made judgment of net realizable value based on data from independent appraiser. Due to the independent appraiser's adopting the comparative market price method for appraisement, the net realizable value might be subject to the future economic situation. SR

Thus, my key audit procedures included evaluating knowledge, competency, and independency of experts in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing - Using the Work of An Expert, and testing calculations in the independent appraiser. I focused on the sufficiency of data disclosure of the Group in relation to comparative market prices of land held for development.

Data regarding the assessment of net realizable values has been disclosed in the Note 8 to the financial statements. It explained the details of comparative market prices of such land under development.

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprise the information included in annual report of the Group, but does not include the financial statements and my auditor's report thereon. The annual report of the Group is expected to be made available to me after the date of this auditor's report.

My opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and I do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon. In connection with my audit of the financial statements, my responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or my knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When I read the annual report of the Group, if I conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, I am required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance for correction of the misstatement.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated and Separate Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated and separate financial statements in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated and separate financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process. gk

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated and Separate Financial Statements

My objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated and separate financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes my opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated and separate financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing, I exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. I also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated and separate financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If I conclude that a material uncertainty exists, I am required to draw attention in my auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated and separate financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify my opinion. My conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of my auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated and separate financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated and separate financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation. sp

- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. I am responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. I remain solely responsible for my audit opinion.

I communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that I identify during my audit.

I also provide those charged with governance with a statement that I have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on my independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, I determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated and separate financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. I describe these matters in my auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, I determine that a matter should not be communicated in my report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is Mrs. Sumana Senivongse

SENA DEVELOPMENT PUBLIC COMPANY LIMITED AND ITS SUBSIDIARIES

DECEMBER 31, 2021

1. GENERAL INFORMATION

1.1 Legal status and company address

SENA DEVELOPMENT PUBLIC COMPANY LIMITED registered the conversion into a Public Company Limited on December 23, 2005, registration number is 0107548000684 and the Company changes its registered office to be located at 448 Thanyalakpark Building, Ratchadapisek Road, Khwaeng Samsen Nok, Khet Huai Khwang Bangkok on March 5, 2018.

The Company listed into The Stock Exchange of Thailand on July 29, 2009.

1.2 The principle business operations

The Company's main business is property development for sales.

2. BASIS FOR THE PREPARATION OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

2.1 Coronavirus disease 2019 Pandemic

The Coronavirus disease 2019 pandemic is continuing to evolve, resulting in an economic slowdown and adversely impacting most businesses and industries. This situation may bring uncertainties and have an impact on the environment in which the group operates. The Group's management has continuously monitored ongoing developments and assessed the financial impact in respect of the valuation of assets, provisions and contingent liabilities, and has used estimates and judgement in respect of various issues as the situation has evolved.

2.2 Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements relate to the Company and its subsidiaries and joint operations (together referred to as the "Group") and the Group's interests in joint ventures.

Business combinations

The Group applies the acquisition method for all business combinations when control is transferred to the Group, as describe in subsidiaries section, other than those with entities under common control.

The acquisition date is the date on which control is transferred to the acquirer.

Goodwill is measured as the fair value of the consideration transferred including the recognised amount of any non - controlling interest in the acquiree, less the net recognised amount (generally fair value) of the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed, all measured as at the acquisition date. Any gain on bargain purchase is recognised in profit or loss immediately.

DECEMBER 31, 2021

Consideration transferred includes the fair values of the assets transferred, liabilities incurred by the Group to the previous owners of the acquiree, and equity interests issued by the Group. Consideration transferred also includes the fair value of any contingent consideration.

Any contingent consideration is measured at fair value at the date of acquisition, and remeasured at fair value at each reporting date. Subsequent changes in the fair value are recognised in profit or loss.

A contingent liability of the acquiree is assumed in a business combination only if such a liability represents a present obligation and arises from a past event, and its fair value can be measured reliably.

Transaction costs that the Group incurs in connection with a business combination, such as legal fees, and other professional and consulting fees are expensed as incurred.

If the initial accounting for a business combination is incomplete by the end of the reporting period in which the combination occurs, the Group reports provisional amounts for the items for which the accounting is incomplete. Those provisional amounts are adjusted during the measurement period, or additional assets or liabilities are recognised, to reflect new information obtained about facts and circumstances that existed at the acquisition date that, if known, would have affected the amounts recognised at that date.

Step acquisition

When a business combination is achieved in stages, the Group's previously held equity interest in the acquiree is remeasured to its acquisition-date fair value and the resulting gain or loss, if any, is recognised in profit or loss. Amounts arising from interests in the acquiree prior to the acquisition date that have previously been recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to profit or loss where such treatment would be appropriate if that interest were disposed of.

Acquisitions from entities under common control

Business combination under common control are accounted for using a method similar to the pooling of interest method. Under that method, the acquirer recognises assets and liabilities of the acquired businesses at their carrying amounts in the consolidated financial statements of the ultimate parent company at the moment of the transaction. The difference between the carrying amount of the acquired net assets and the consideration transferred is recognised as surplus or discount from business combinations under common control in shareholder's equity. The surplus or discount will be transferred to retained earnings upon divestment of the businesses acquired.

The results from operations of the acquired businesses will be included in the consolidated financial statements of the acquirer from the beginning of the comparative period or the moment the businesses came under common control, whichever date is later, until control ceases.

Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are entities controlled by the Group. The Group controls an entity when it is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. The financial statements of subsidiaries are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date on which control commences until the date on which control ceases.

Non-controlling interests

At the acquisition date, the Group measures any non-controlling interest at its proportionate interest in the identifiable net assets of the acquiree.

Changes in the Group's interest in a subsidiary that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions.

Loss of control

When the Group loses control over a subsidiary, it derecognises the assets and liabilities of the subsidiary, and any related non-controlling interests and other components of equity.

Any resulting gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss. Any interest retained in the former subsidiary is measured at fair value when control is lost.

Investment in joint operation

A joint operation is a joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the assets, and obligations for the liabilities, relating to the arrangement.

Investment in joint operation is accounted for the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses relating to its interest in a joint operation in accordance with the TFRS applicable to the particular assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses.

Interests in equity - accounted investees

The Group's interests in equity - accounted investees comprise interests in joint ventures.

A joint venture is an arrangement in which the Group has joint control, whereby the Group has rights to the net assets of the arrangement, rather than rights to its assets and obligations for its liabilities.

Interests in joint ventures are accounted for using the equity method. They are initially recognised at cost, which includes transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, the consolidated financial statements include the Group's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income of equity - accounted investees, until the date on which joint control ceases.

2.3 Basis of measurement

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis. (except where otherwise disclosed in the accounting policies)

2.4 Functional and presentation currency

The financial statements are prepared and presented in Thai Baht, which is the Company's functional currency. Unless otherwise specified.

2.5 Significant accounting judgments and estimates

Allowance for expected credit losses of trade receivables and contract assets

In determining an allowance for expected credit losses of trade receivables and contract assets, the management needs to make judgement and estimates based upon, among other things, past collection history, aging profile of outstanding debts and the forecast economic condition for groupings of various customer segments with similar credit risks. The Group's historical credit loss experience and forecast economic conditions may also not be representative of whether a customer will actually default in the future.

Impairment of property development for sale and land held for development

The Company and its subsidiaries treat property development for sale and land held for development as impaired when the management judges that there has been a significant decline in the fair value. The management determines the devaluation of such properties and land held for development based on net realisable value. The determination of what is "significant" and such devaluation requires the management to exercise judgment.

Impairment of investments

The Company and its subsidiaries treat investments as impaired when there has been a significant or prolonged decline in the fair value below their cost or where other objective evidence of impairment exists. The determination of what is "significant" or "prolonged" requires judgment.

Depreciation of investment properties, property, plant and equipment and right-of-use assets and amortisation of intangible assets

In determining depreciation of investment properties, plant and equipment and right-of-use assets and amortisation of intangible assets, the management is required to make estimates of the useful lives and residual values (if any) and to review useful lives and residual values when there are any changes.

In addition the management has to consider the impairment of investment properties, property, plant and equipment, right-of-use assets and intangibles assets are subject to impairment if there is an indication they may be impaired, and impairment losses are recorded when it is determined that their recoverable amount is lower than the carrying amount.

Indications include significant falls in the market value of assets or the future economic benefits of assets, significant changes in the overall business strategy impacting to the future utilization of assets, significant negative industry or economic trends, significant loss of market share, and significant unfavourable regulatory and court decisions that impact the business etc.

The impairment analysis of investment properties, property, plant and equipment, right-of-use assets and intangible assets requires management to make subjective judgments concerning estimates of cash flows to be generated by the assets or the cash generating units and to choose a suitable discount rate in order to determine the present value of those cash flows. The cash flow estimates are based on currently available information about the operations and require management to make judgments regarding future market conditions and future revenues and expenses relevant to the assets or the cash generating units subject to the review. Events and factors that may significantly affect the estimates include, among others, competitive forces, changes in revenue growth trends, cost structures, changes in discount rates and specific industry or market sector conditions.

Leases

Determining the lease term with extension and termination options - The Company and subsidiaries as a lessee

The Company and subsidiaries In determining the lease term, the management is required to exercise judgment in assessing whether The Company and subsidiaries are reasonably certain to exercise the option to extend or terminate the lease, considering all relevant factors and circumstances that create an economic incentive for The Company and subsidiaries to exercise either the extension or termination option. After the commencement date, The Company and subsidiaries reassess the lease term if there is a significant event or change in circumstances that is within its control and affects its ability to exercise or not to exercise the option to extend or to terminate.

Lease classification - The Company and subsidiaries as a lessor

In determining whether a lease is to be classified as an operating lease or finance lease, the management is required to exercise judgement as to whether significant risk and rewards of ownership of the leased asset has been transferred, taking into consideration terms and conditions of the arrangement.

Deferred tax assets

Deferred tax assets are recognised for temporary difference arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes as at the end of reporting period when it is highly probable that The Company and subsidiaries will generate sufficient taxable profits from their future operations to utilise these deferred tax assets. If management need to estimate the amounts of the deferred tax assets that The Company and subsidiaries should recognise, they take into account the amount of taxable profit expected in each future period.

Project development costs estimation

In calculating cost of land and houses and condominium sold, The Company and subsidiaries have to estimate all project development costs comprising land and land improvement costs, design and construction costs, public utility costs, borrowing costs and other related costs. The management estimates these costs based on their business experience and revisits the estimations on a periodical basis or when the actual costs incurred significantly vary from the estimated cost.

Provision for home and condominium care warranty

In recording provision for home and condominium care warranty, the management estimates the expenses expected to be incurred as a result of providing such warranty based on past experiences of actual expenses claimed.

Post-employment benefits under defined benefit plans

The obligations under the defined benefit plans are determined based on actuarial techniques. Such determination is made based on various assumptions, including discount rate, future salary increase rate, mortality rate and staff turnover rate.

Commercial disputes, litigation, conformity with rules and regulations in real estate industry and uncertainty in tax interpretation

The management used judgment to assess the effect of these matters and this involves evaluating the degree of probability that a loss will be incurred and the management's ability to make a reasonable estimate of the amount of that loss. Changes in the factors used in management's evaluation and unanticipated events may result in actual results differing from the estimates. However, if management believes that no significant loss will result, no related provision are recorded as at the end of reporting period.

The Company and subsidiaries a lessee

The Company and subsidiaries apply a single recognition and measurement approach for all leases, except for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets. At the commencement date of the lease, The Company and subsidiaries recognize right-of-use assets representing the right to use the underlying assets and lease liabilities based on lease liabilities based on lease payments.

Right-of-use assets

Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation, any accumulated impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities. The cost of right-of-use assets includes the amount of lease liabilities initially recognised, initial direct costs incurred, and lease payments made at or before the commencement date of the lease less any lease incentives received.

The cost of right-of-use assets also includes an estimate of costs to be incurred by the lessee in dismantling and removing the underlying asset, restoring the site on which it is located or restoring the underlying asset to the condition required by the terms and conditions of the lease.

Depreciation of right-of-use assets are calculated by reference to their costs on a straight-line basis over the shorter of their estimated useful lives and the lease term, as follows:

Land and land improvements	3 Years
Building and building improvements	7 Years
Vehicles	3 - 5 Years

Lease liabilities

Lease liabilities are measured at the present value of the lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments less any lease incentives receivable, and amounts expected to be payable under residual value guarantees. Moreover, the lease payments include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by The Company and subsidiaries and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects The Company and subsidiaries exercising an option to terminate. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised as expenses in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

In calculating the present value of lease payments, The Company and subsidiaries use its incremental borrowing rate, which is determined by referring to the government bond yield adjusted with risk premium depending on the lease term, at the lease commencement date if the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is remeasured if there is a change in the lease term, a change in the lease payments or a change in the assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset.

In determining the amount of current and deferred tax, the Company takes into account the impact of uncertain tax positions and whether additional taxes and interest may be due. The Company believes that its accruals for tax liabilities are adequate for all open tax years based on its assessment of many factors, including interpretations of tax law and prior experience. This assessment relies on estimates and assumptions and may involve a series of judgments about future events. New information may become available that causes the Company to change its judgment regarding the adequacy of existing tax liabilities; such changes to tax liabilities will impact tax expense in the period that such a determination is made.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax liabilities and assets, and they relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on the same taxable entity, or on different tax entities, but they intend to settle current tax liabilities and assets on a net basis or their tax assets and liabilities will be realized simultaneously. A deferred tax asset is recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realized.
